

Optimize and Evolve Your Wholesale Distribution Business Model

Digital transformation has caught up with – and, in some cases, overrun – the wholesale distribution industry. Automation, e-commerce, and omnichannel customer service are the tools of the trade, and wholesalers who fail to adapt risk getting left behind. Revolutionize your business with solutions that respond in real-time and allow you to stay flexible to changing needs while delivering consistent, predictable outcomes for you and positive experiences for your customers.

Solutions for the Entire Supply Chain

Argano's SAP solutions and expertise make complex solutions possible. We work alongside you to implement and accelerate the high-performance operations needed to run your organization. As we deploy these solutions, we also optimize your organizational processes and workflows to create a purpose-built platform that meets your unique needs. And, as your business grows, whether through new warehouses, shipping routes, or customers, we're there with you, ensuring your solutions grow with you so your operations and customer experience remain consistent.

Improving inventory management

Our supply chain management expertise and SAP functionality empower clients to enhance inventory management across all aspects. Go beyond raw data and achieve actionable insights, align stock levels with market demands, and minimize excess inventory.

Transforming data into insights

Utilizing a "data first" methodology Argano helps you surface and visualize the metrics fueling critical KPIs. We help you create workflows and dashboards that allow you to more quickly drive success for your business.

Leveraging e-commerce

"Consumerization" has arrived in the wholesale space. Extend your platform with SAP's integrated e-commerce platform to meet customers' expectations and allow them to easily browse catalogs, place orders, and track shipments.

Delivering a customer-first approach

Tapping into the power of SAP's CRM tools, we give you clearer insights into what's driving customer engagement so you can tailor offerings, personalize communications, anticipate needs, and improve engagement metrics such as CSAT and NPS.
