

AI Readiness Assessment

Maximize the full potential of artificial intelligence (AI) with a strategic roadmap to success

The AI Readiness Assessment from Argano is a comprehensive offering designed to help your business evaluate its readiness to adopt and implement artificial intelligence (AI) technologies. This assessment provides the framework for an effective AI strategy, as well as a comprehensive analysis of your current capabilities, including technology infrastructure, data readiness, and skillset evaluation.

Key Benefits:

- Understand your AI readiness
- Leverage publisher toolsets and existing AI models
- Optimize resource allocation to maximize AI capabilities
- Mitigate risk and ensure compliance
- Automate processes and streamline operations for greater efficiency
- Drive innovation and unlock new business opportunities

1. Current State Analysis

Analyzes your current infrastructure, data management practices, and technology capabilities and identifies potential gaps or limitations for AI deployment.

2. Data Readiness Evaluation

Assesses the quality, availability, and accessibility of your data and provides recommendations for data collection, storage, and governance to optimize your data readiness.

3. Technical Infrastructure Assessment

Evaluates compatibility of your existing IT infrastructure, including hardware, software, and network capabilities and determines potential upgrades.

4. Skills & Talent Assessment

Evaluates your organization's current skillsets and talent pool, identifies gaps, and provides recommendations for upskilling and recruiting.

5. ROI & Roadmap

Comprehensive analysis of potential ROI and development of customized roadmap, including next steps, timeline, and milestones required to complete successful transition.
